Anti-Money Laundering Training Seminar

Money laundering¹ has become a global concern and actions to combat against the threats posed by money laundering are continuing to increase. Failure to observe the anti-money laundering (“AML”) requirements and combat money laundering could pose serious consequences to you. These could result in disciplinary actions or even criminal actions. The reputation of your firm may also be severely tarnished and as a result adversely affect your business.

To protect your firm against the threat of money laundering and to ensure compliance with the relevant AML requirements, you should adopt a more pro-active approach against money laundering. In the coming AML seminar, you could learn more about the money laundering typologies and your AML obligations under the laws and regulatory requirements. Senior management are strongly urged to attend the seminars.

The AML training seminar is a joint effort of the Narcotics Division, the Joint Financial Intelligence Unit, the Department of Justice and the SFC. The English and Chinese sessions of the seminar will be held on 12 and 20 June 2007 respectively. The invitation letter, programme and enrolment form for the seminar are attached herewith.

The seminar is free of charge and 3 CPT hours will be offered to those who attend the whole seminar. Enrolments will close on 30 May 2007 and are processed on a first-come-first-serve basis. The SFC will confirm with the admitted participants by e-mail or fax. Please present your confirmation slip at the reception counter for admission.

If you have any queries, please contact Ms Maggie Cheung at 2840-9455 or Mr Stanley Wong at 2283-6179.

Anti-Money Laundering Seminars for Securities and Futures Companies

The Narcotics Division, the Securities and Futures Commission (“SFC”) and the Joint Financial Intelligence Unit (“JFIU”) will jointly organize two anti-money laundering seminars on 12th and 20th June 2007. The seminars, respectively conducted in English and Cantonese, are to be held at the Hong Kong Central Library, Causeway Bay and the Police Headquarters, Wanchai. You are invited to nominate representatives to attend the seminars. The objectives of the seminar are to-

- (a) provide you with an overview of the latest international and domestic anti-money laundering developments;
- (b) enhance your understanding of the statutory obligations and practices of suspicious transaction reporting; and
- (c) provide a forum for discussion on matters of common concern relating to anti-money laundering compliance and reporting.

Speakers for the seminars will be drawn from SFC, JFIU and the Department of Justice. The seminars are recognized by the SFC as fulfilling the CPT requirements and 3 CPT hours will be given to attendance. Programmes of the seminars are attached for your reference. If you require further details about the seminars, please refer to www.nd.gov.hk.
